

The Empire Of Eyes

Esoterica

Beneath the skin lies a you that you don't know yet well cut away the excess unsightly cartilage this canvass just wont sit right we could change your mirrors over night saline breasts can make a star turn a blind eye to the scars and all these people just keep going under

You wipe the sleep from your eyes falling fast but this decent is all mine bite your tongue form the screams you taste the blood but the sleeping God is holding you

Beneath the skin lies a you that you don't know yet and you'll be easier to accept, better job designer friend and they'll adore you to the end its already changing, do you remember can you remember who you are because I don't know

If she was beautiful
would you listen harder this condition has distorted eyes
If she was beautiful
this condition has distorted eyes
If she was beautiful

I am the sun of the empire of eyes the more that I see is the more I go blind beware the daughters of empire of eyes the more that you see is the more you go blind beware what you see as beautiful its not real.
