I Know You Know

Esperanza Spalding

The way You look at me When you think I'm not looking Tells me Your heart's A sleeping giant Worn out By someone You loved before me I see you're scared Unconvinced by What I've tried to say That I am yours And that nothing Will take me away You already know, But I'll sing it again I love you babe And nothing Will take me away I know that you know, But I'll sing it again I love you babe And nothing Will take me away The way You always call me With some question And every time Try to pretend You didn't call me Just 'cause I was on your mind Too soon for you To say out loud But I know You love me And though We don't say it Already shows You already know, But I'll sing it again I love you babe And nothing Will take me away I know that you know,

But I'll sing it again

I love you babe And nothing Will take me away You already know, But I'll sing it again I love you babe And nothing Will take me away You already know, But I'll sing it again I love you babe And nothing Will take me away I'll wait for you To open up But, it's not a bore You're just What I've been Looking for Why do you keep Your head in the sand? Whoever You loved before me That ran Nothing like me Nothing like me Nothing like me You already know, But I'll sing it again I love you babe And nothing Will take me away I know that you know But I'll sing it again I love you babe And nothing Will take me away You already know, But I'll sing it again I love you babe And nothing Will take me away I know that you know But I'll sing it again I love you babe And nothing Will take me away The way you look at me When you think I'm not looking. The way you call me up Just to see What's cooking

The way you look at me When you think I'm not looking I look at you That way too You just don't know That I do I know that you know You already know I know you know and I know it shows that I know you know And you really love me baby I can see you love me I love I already know, But sing it again

Sing in again
