

I've always been on the run
And I thought I could chase the sun
Without breaking it's heart.
The truth is when all is said and done,
It was over before we even started, yeah.

I told you I'm not afraid
And you said "I wish I could feel the same,
But I won't have a friend".
The truth is you are to leave this town, girl,
Don't ever look back and keep your head in the clouds,
That's why you're beautiful.

Go, see how far you can reach.
And baby, don't look back until you get exactly what you need.
'cause there's no shine of your possibilities.
So, baby, don't come back until you get exactly what you need.
You won't find it in here.

I'm finally here and I'm living a dream,
And I'm playing the part of a star on the screen.
It's crazy we see things for what they've been,
I keep asking myself "is this really happening to me?"

He told me
Go, see how far you can reach.
And baby, don't look back until you get exactly what you need.
'cause there's no shine of your possibilities.
So, baby, don't come back until you get exactly what you need.
You won't find it in here, no matter what you believe.

My mother is full of grace,
And my daddy still lives at the same old place
At the side of the hill, on the corner of town,
The days are still long and the roads are dusty
It's been a full year, but I come home when I can.

But now I need to
Go, see how far I can reach.
And I'm not coming back until I get exactly what I need.
'cause there is no shine of your possibilities.
And God, right now I'm asking, won't you give me something to believe,
I need to
But now I need to
Go, see how far I can reach.
I'm not looking back until I get exactly what I need.
'cause there is no shine of your possibilities.
Baby, don't come back until you get exactly what you need.
You will find all you need, but you've got to believe.

I've always been on the road,
And I, I thought I could chase the song
