I Believe In Love

You arrived in my life as the light Illuminates the darkness In a past of nightmares At the end of a tunnel I see your light

Living a new emotion If you believe in dreams With you I can get it For everything you have a way

I believe in love For all eternity I need you I know you love me I need you now

I open my passionate eyes To look at my love for the rest of my life And never ignore my destiny anymore Announcing days of prosperity

Living a new emotion If you believe in dreams With you I can get it For everything you have a way

I believe in love For all eternity I need you I know you love me I need you now

I live my new world Where nature makes me feel good For all my life

Eterna
