

An alien knight approaches me
Traveled from far away
Foolish and senseless is this beast
This shall be his final hour
For he knows not who I truly am

As he draws near
I look into his eyes to find nothing more than

A talisman that lies from deep within
Has all but consumed his entity
A talisman that cries from deep within
His foolish might has struck my soul

Mighty and ruthless
This icon will kill us
Everyone

I'm pushed away by this wicked spell
Cursed by its presence
Come my brethren
Let us fly from our lair
We shall slay the enemy from where he stands

But with his last breath he speaks
Your power your wisdom your souls belong to me

Mighty and ruthless
This icon will kill us
Everyone

Has destroyed our bodies
Stolen our souls
He has doomed us all
