

Fight the Heavens

Eternal Legacy

The doctor's ears are battered by the raging force of a life
From the horizon
A sound of fury marching up the mountain side

Pulled into the darkest creation
Where the evil overtakes the mortal minds

He jumps onto the back of a hell bent demon
Too weak to ever take him down
Blistered by his sight
He throws him to the ground beaten and choked
Feeling pain from his head to toes
Yet still alive never will let go
Running fast as they come to sight

The final war
A distant star
In a far away place
To heed the call

The final war
A distant star
In a far away place
To heed the call

Fighting the heavens
Destroy the nation
Smashing the aliens
To find creation

Soon a field of flames will spread as far as the eyes can see
Now there's just a single chance to survive
No fear no pain no mercy
And you're paving the way to annihilate
This wretched colony

The final war
A distant star
In a far away place
To heed the call

The final war
A distant star
In a far away place
To heed the call
