

Lost But Not Alone

Eternal Legacy

Time is running out faster than a fly
Like a dying heartbeat that's beating with a cry
Shouts of laughter shriek through the darkness
Terror rises a helpless messiah
I've entered this cage as a helpless inferior
I'm afraid my life's at stake

How can I take back this moment
And I just don't want to believe
Ignorance but innocence
In a cage I try to break free

Not even enough time for a single breath
It's coming closer
I turn the corner
As I stumble into a wall

The only way I'll survive is to raise some dire hell
Even though my life's at stake I cannot repel

How can I take back this moment
And I just don't want to believe
Ignorance but innocence
In a cage I try to break free

Bitten by death and I know that something is wrong
I lost the fight
I was struck by his might
I'm becoming just a grain of sand

The only way I'll survive is to raise some dire hell
Even though my life's at stake I cannot repel

How can I take back this moment
And I just don't want to believe
Ignorance but innocence
In a cage I try to break free

How can I take back this moment
And I just don't want to believe
Ignorance but innocence
In a cage I try to break free
