

Metal Anvil

Eternal Legacy

Open your eyes and take a look outside
At the man that tries to break in
He stares you down while you look with a frown
And has no sympathy for your soul

Smash through the door with the metal anvil
He has a bloodthirsty aim to kill
With his evil looks and his insane eyes
He brings more to the screams and the cries

It's just another worry
A painful strike at you is here
It's right around the corner
Your future lies with pain and despair
Victims are the ones who do not live
With nothing more left to give
Their hearts are torn in two
The victim there is definitely you!

Smash through the door with the metal anvil
He has a bloodthirsty aim to kill
He rips you apart like a wolf in the night
And just stares at the horrifying sight

It's just another worry
A painful strike at you is here
It's right around the corner
Your future lies with pain and despair
Victims are the ones who do not live
Their hearts are torn in two
The victim there is definitely you!

Running from this insane man...
Thinking of a ruthless plan...
Blood drips off my arms and face...
My mind goes blank, I can't embrace...
Misery creeps into me...
I've lost my mind and cannot see...
I feel the pain and agony...
The metal anvil's gotten me!
