

One Last Hope

Eternal Legacy

Light they see as they fall from the sky
Into the cold... so cold they go...
Climb back up to the surface
Regain your strength and unite
It's up to you to find what your destiny holds...

Feel the power from the light they saw...
You know the glow as it melts off the snow

It speaks great words of wisdom
And tells them what to do...
Fight with glory and might so victory
Will surely come to you

Here we stand... now we're mortals...
We are true and we stand to defend
We'll fight till the end
Raise our armor high
We'll do what it takes to win

...We begin

This is our last hope
We begin our journey ahead
To the distant plain... of wind and ice
It's not our last fight
They'll be many battles ahead
Through the cold and desolate land...

Here we stand... now we're mortals...
We are true and we stand to defend
We'll fight till the end
Raise our armor high
We'll do what it takes to win
