

Realm of Wind and Ice

Eternal Legacy

Soaring across... the plain...
We enter this land, covered with ice
The bitter cold deprives our senses
The snowfall... blinds our sight
Unsure if our strength will hold in the cold

It seems like time has slipped away...
We're on a path of triumph...
Our strength will never fade away...
We're warriors and we embrace...

We come to a wall of ice...
Blocked from all angles
We cannot get through
A life form approaches us...
He asks its of our quest...
We tell him the answer
He looks now with anger
And us fear...

It seems like time has slipped away...
We're on a path of triumph...
Our strength will never fade away...
We're warriors and we embrace...

The ground begins to shake...
We gather together to take on this being
Not knowing what it is
The ice opens violently from below...
Swallows us whole
Under this ice covered plain...
