Tears of Joy

Etta James

I'm just a fool who really loves you There is no greater fool than me You told me lies and I believed you How big a fool can you be

I close my eyes when people tell me They saw you kissin' someone new I just won't let my heart believe it I'm just a fool in love with you

Some day you may be crying Crying over me And if that ever happens A fool you too may be

Why don't you change your way of livin'? And walk the straight and never lie The Lord forgives a fool who's willin' I'll give the world to make you mine

Some day you may be crying Crying over me And if that ever happens A fool you too, you too may be

Why don't you change your way of livin'? And walk the straight and never lie The Lord forgives a fool who's willin' I'll give the world to make you mine
