Nightbird

Eva Cassidy

Some old hotel room in Memphis I see the city through the rain I'm just chasing me in my time And remembering some pain

You see there once was a boy And on the street he? d surely die So the nightbird took him in And she taught him how to fly

See the nightbird softly fly Why does she fly alone Is the moonlight just a flame For her memory now she's gone

To big bars and honkytonks Any pleasure can be found You can get just what you want If you lay your money down

And lonely sailors do their drinking My my my how the brave men do die And the nightbird sells her pleasures Bringing tears to my eyes

See the nightbird softly fly Why does she fly alone Is the moonlight just a flame For her memory now she's gone

So I guess I'll go out walking Lord let the rain keep falling down I guess I'll go and chase some memories In the dark side of town

See the nightbird softly fly Why does she fly alone Is the moonlight just a flame For her memory now she's gone

For her memory now she's gone For her memory now she's gone
