

Tall Trees in Georgia

Eva Cassidy

Tall trees in Georgia
They grow so high
They shade me so
And sadly walking
Through the thicket I go

The sweetest love
I ever had, I left aside
Because I did not
Want to be any man's bride

But now I'm older
And married I would be
I found my sweetheart
But he would not marry me

When I was younger
The boys all came around
But now I'm older
And they've all settled down

Control your mind my girl
And give your heart to one
For if you love all men
You'll be surely left with none

Tall trees in Georgia
They grow so high
They shade me so
And sadly walking
Through the thicket I go
