

There You Are Again

Evan and Jaron

I know you know what I'm about to say
But let me tell it to you anyway
Although I never mean to let you down
You keep your head up and you stand your ground
Don't think I don't see all the things that you do
You're the reason we've made it through
There you are
On the phone again
Reminding me why we're still friends
There's a road we're on that never ends
Cause there you are again
I know that sometimes I don't think to call
But don't start thinking I don't care at all
I'm always on my way to somewhere else
Searching high and low to find myself
Stuck on that highway
Between here and there
I could be anywhere
You're like the eye of a hurricane
You are a constant in a world of change
You are the calm in the storm
When life gets strange
