Someday

Evereve

Across the sea, across the waves - foaming waves of time Bound to these earthly shores we are lost - surrender to our fa te... our fate Waiting for some changing TIDE - deep inside

And now the tide is coming in The rolling, crushing waves Deep waters rising high Take me away...

Someday

You will find the undertow - all the secret streams below Someday

Will we remain forever here - alone within ourselves?

You will find the rivers flow - follow me - just let things go

Resting here inside these walls - shrouding walls within This temple of my inner thoughts - a vanished place to stay

Rolling - crushing - deep waters rising high...
