

We're Always Losing Blood

Evergreen Terrace

and all this time we've waited just to see hope decimated by the setting sun, and all the while frustrated because a heart that's underrated is always losing blood,

we're always losing blood,

you'll never know what it means to give. receive. and
not forget
another hole as we bleed it out then breath it all back in.

if you could only see we're dying faster. faster now.

and all this time we've waited just to see hope
decimated by the setting sun, all the while frustrated because a heart that's perforated is always losing blood.

we're always losing blood.

you'll never know what it means to give. receive. and
not forget
another hole as we bleed it out then breath it all back
in.

if you could only see we're dying
if you could only see we're dying faster. faster now.

and all this time we've waited just to see hope
decimated by the setting sun,
and all the while frustrated because a heart that's
worn and dated is always losing blood.
and all the while frustrated because a heart that's
worn and dated is always losing blood.

and all this time we've waited just to see hope
decimated by the setting sun,
and all the while frustrated because a heart that's
worn and dated is always losing blood.