Blinded

Compelled to speak when not to speak My words lead and I follow I must talk or else I'm weak Let no one know my shell's hollow

False world created I just watch it come to life Your faith's my weapon And your trust by my side

Lost all my senses Can't feel, can't hear, I'm Blinded Lost all my senses Emotionally numb Blinded

Nothing's sacred and no one's safe I'm feeding on denial Getting careless soon bound to fail Fooled by my own betrayal

Are you lost in fury? Fearing to fail Are you aching for vengeance? And got lost on the way Are you hiding your anger? Fearing truth will prevail Ashamed of the present And what you've become today

False world created...

Lost all my senses...
