Fragments of the past flash before my eyes Never ending streams of images colliding Silhouettes of memories slowly fading away Illusionary seductions haunts me in my dreams

Fighting for freedom

But the chains I'm in won't break

It will soon be too late

I am here, I am lost, I am weak and bothered Is this it? Will I grow when my soul falters? I am here, I am lost, I am weak, and bothered Is this it? Will I grow? I am weak and bothered

Blinded by the fear
Of being left alone
I seek the truth within
As the shadows are closing in

Calling oblivion
'Cause the state I'm in won't change
And I'm fighting for freedom
'Cause the chains I'm in won't break

I am here, I am lost, I am weak and bothered Is this it? Will I grow when my soul falters? I am here, I am lost, I am weak and bothered Is this it? Will I grow when my soul falters?

I am here, I am lost, I am weak and bothered Is this it? Will I grow when my soul falters? I am here, I am lost, I am weak and bothered Is this it? Will I grow when my soul falters?

I am here, I am lost, I am weak and bothered Is this it? Will I grow when my soul falters? I am here, I am lost, I am weak and bothered Is this it? Will I grow when my soul falters?

I am here, I am lost, I am weak and bothered Is this it? Will I grow when my soul falters? I am here, I am lost, I am weak and bothered Is this it? Will I grow when my soul falters?
