

King Of Errors

Evergrey

We've crowned a king with no soul
When all doors are closed, we walk alone
We know you've seen us, you always did
And every time you close your eyes
You make us fade
Don't you ever wonder if we sleep at night?
If we sit in silence, you think you're right
In the end, you were never right
(You were never right)

We are crowned by our errors
And we're lost and alone
Then I walk in the mirror
We're crowned king with no soul
We are lost to silence(?)
There;'s no one left to fault
They are not looking in the mirror
Cause it's full of holes

They call us kings
Then watch us fall down broken
Then strike to the floor(?)
They're crowned the king of errors

Then I reach out and falter
When no-one's left to call
(Call me Heaven, hate, Heaven)
Then I reach out, I falter
Can I stand on your laughter?
Reach out and touch me
You'll need to scream loud to reach us

They call us kings
Then watch us fall down broken
Then strike to the floor(?)
They're crowned the king of errors

They call us kings
Then watch us fall down broken
Then strike to the floor(?)
They're crowned the king of errors
