Rulers of the Mind

You can't possibly know me What I feel cause even I don't A strange sensation of never being lonely Has made me question the essence of existence ...of life

Are we parts of a puzzle Small pieces in a major plan Fuppets on a string being run by a master Formed and shaped like clay

I'm trying but failing unanswered cries unites The struggling of finding the truth behind the lies I'm trying they're laughing my rulers of the mind I'm trying ...I'm trying

Their constant presence deceives me I can't tell when i'm awake or when i dream And my hiding is useless My anxiety reveals me Gives me away

I'm trying but failing unanswered cries unites The struggling of finding the truth behind the lies I'm trying they're laughing my rulers of the mind I'm trying ...I'm trying...
