Lonely thoughts from a lonely mind He fights for recognition Desperate tries only increasing the pressure Falls blind unseen forever

The children of today and the children of tomorrow Forced out of a life of their own We are the sinners of these days and only bringers of sorrow We're only bringers of sorrow

Unforgivable sin, temptation too big Unforgivable sin, temptation too big Unforgivable sin Unforgivable

Wounds inflicted a bloodstained soul Distinct marks of violence Skin fragments under nails and a God forsaken fate No holy water can save him now

False prophet, a deceiving smile Arms open, here's trust to find A man of god, a temptation too big Unforgivable sin

No holy water can save him now And no prayers can cleanse the lust He used, abused and he raped the trust The innocence of a life is lost

Unforgivable sin, temptation too big Unforgivable sin, temptation too big Unforgivable sin, temptation too big
