

Your Darkest Hour

Evergrey

Feel free to question me
Let out the hate you feel
Blame all your doubts on me
And your caving reality

I will not judge, I cannot judge
So feel free to question me
I can't, cannot judge
No [Incomprehensible] judge

I would hold you when you're sleeping
I would guide you when you're drifting
I'd be the light you seek in your darkest hour

I will show you how to leave it
Out of the darkness and into the light
Leave it, I will show you how to leave it
To find a new day and a vision in bright

Feel free to question me
Let out the hate you feel
Walk through insanity
And awake into crystal clarity

I will show you how to leave it
Out of the darkness and into the light
Leave it, I will show you how to leave it
To find a new day and a vision in bright

I will show you how to leave it
Out of the darkness and into the light
Leave it, I will show you how to leave it
To find a new day and a vision in bright
