

Heaven Open Your Eyes

Everlife

You've got another question eating you up inside
And needing some direction, it's too hard to decide, I have got a place for you
That has the answer you need
It's waiting by the doorstep, are you ready to proceed?

You've been trying to find all your life
The One who's always been by your side

Let heaven open your eyes
Tell ya what you've been missin'
Show you what you can't live without
Let heaven open the skies
Pour upon ya the reason
To live your life without any doubt

Is there any other question, maybe a mystery, a personal objection, or curiosity
A message to your Maker, who's ready to reply, are you lookin' for a Savior?
He's not inside of that guy
You've been trying to find all your life
The One right by your side

You will find a little of mind
Gonna make your life so much better
Let heaven
Walk the way you wanna live today
You know the pain you wanna give away
Is holding you from hoping
Let heaven open up your eyes
