

Stand Up

Everyday Sunday

I will stand up now
I will not step down
I will do my best to wear this crown
But I need You as You guide me through today

You wake up out of bed, walk out of your castle
And then you lift up your head
When will you wake up and see (wake up and see)
It takes more than just you to get through this life

Going around the town, maybe someone had brought him down, different maybe not the same,
Everyone thinks

I will stand up now
I will not step down
I will do my best to wear this crown
But I need You as You guide me through today

He's going out there now
And all the things he has found
Everything around is new
No more holding back as the crowd looks from afar
Everything he has is You
And everything he has is You

I will stand up now
I will not step down
I will do my best to wear this crown
But I need You as You guide me through today
