

Bark Twice If You're In Milwaukee

Everyone Dies In Utah

I gotta gotta secret that could bring you down that could tear you down

From the throne you sit on high

Yeahh

And could you try to shut me down try to bring me down

But I just won't die

No I won't die

This is what it takes

For you to change

Cover up your eyes

Before the sense of time begins to fall

To fall!

It shows us how these times turn us all into the men we are

This is us don't you dare turn your back on me

This is the end of new beginnings

You and I we're meant to be feared

You will learn

I'll be there on the day you fall

On the day you fall!

I'll watch your face hit the the ground

As the weight of this world crushes you

As the weight of this world crushes you

This is what it takes for you to change!
