

Welcome To The Ward

Everyone Dies In Utah

These dark walls
They hide the truth
I'm alone
I'm alone inside this tomb
Perception of mentality
It's hard to tell which mind is mine

Don't give your heart to the dark
You must strive to fight for your life
The struggle grows harder and I can no longer
Idly sit by on the sidelines
I won't hand you to the dark
I will strive to fight for your life
The room's getting smaller and I can no longer
Let your mind murder your heart

I'm always
Pacing back and forth
I have walked for days
With everything around me
Have I lost my way
A certainty comes over me
It's hard to find
But I'm out of my mind
My composure is
Nowhere to be found
And now I can barely breath

Don't give your heart to the dark
You must strive to fight for your life
The struggle grows harder and I can no longer
Idly sit by on the sidelines
I won't hand you to the dark
I will strive to fight for your life
The room's getting smaller and I can no longer
Let your mind murder your heart

Time stands still
In this delirium
It's like the walls are closing in
It's like I'm suffocating
These dark walls
They hide the truth
Is this real
'Cause I think I lost it this time
If this is real, why can't I find my mind
