

Darkland

Evig Natt

Far into the distance lies the land that I long for Where my blood runs like a river, I have to cross Every breath, how it pains me Patiently waiting for the Raven Goddess to come

I'll free you from your wings
Now fall
When all fails I'll be here
To embrace you
Your blood is my river
Crossing you over

Send me into a dreamless sleep
Nightmares cease
while my vessel rots away
Away
Nothing can penetrate this numbing stillness
Where I lie and wait for life

The pale winter mistress collecting the lost souls where the unfortunate ones must go

Fall to the ground and beg for mercy
She'll break your wings and let you fall
Enter the Darkland
There you'll find me
Follow the raven
I'll sit by my stone
