Prophecy

Let the heavens bleed We hunt for reverence not greed From heaven we angels fell Banished to the kingdom of hell Holy war wages strong Mankind stands and looks on Loyalties meaningless Our faith in you it now turns to dust In you we trusted But you condemned us all In you we trusted So now your kingdom shall fall Mankind shall face our wrath Their burning souls light our path Blood shall cover the land Sentenced devastation on our command Guard your heavens gate You'll fall regardless of fate We'll take back what is ours Paradise forever ruled by our hand In you we trusted But you condemned us all In you we trusted So now your kingdom shall fall
