

Silence Sleep

Evocation

I'm trespassing the only rule warned not to do
Some say it's not my business who are they to know Can never see things through your eyes or never feel your hell

I know that one plus one is two I saw the signs in you
You loose control blackened eyes emotion numb and unaware On broken glass with dirty feet you walk the surface in silence sleep

Our scars so deep
In silence sleep

Stains of blood in moonlit snow traces through the cold Ahead I see corroded blade aside the hand that hold The start of day sang silent night surrounded by the close
Angel dark with serpent eyes leviathan arise

Termination murderation domination sexifixation Penetration violation obscurity revealed in you
