Antithesis Of Light

Evoken

Eternity has no bottom It is the breath of a dying sun Exhaling its icy last gasp Above the pillars of the dark corruption. Hanging low in the vast nothingness, Symbol of destiny - mirror of the ages Eternity is an illusion Burning quickly away into molecular shadow There is no measure of it; it's depth in endless It is in the eyes of all who see. Elusive, the antithesis of light devours life And eventually, eternity shall endure When all else has fallen to myth; And no dream is left to believe. Eternity is dust - a churning sea of pale dementia Burying, reaping beneath the ashen shroud of heaven. Desolate father of all time Awaits the final breath...and stands a lonely vigil To greet you in the inevitable darkness once again.
