

Elizabethan Woman

Ewelina Lisowska

Too many faces, too many voices around me
People try to tame me
But I'm like a snake
You can't trust me

Too many faces, too many voices around me
People try to tame me
But I'm like a snake
You can't trust me

I'm not good enough to compose a masterpiece
Should I give up and stay with nothing here
Because of you, because of them I'm not able to be who I am
So should I clean your dreams, cook your succes for every meal?

I am everything and nothing here, I'm a lie
I am main character of poems and I inspire
I am nobody in this story and in real life
I am elizabethan woman who's not meant to fight
Until I see the light

Inferior to any man, who always must know better
But I don't wanna live as a stupid mask, what I feel just doesn't matter
I cannot vote, I cannot show you the special gift which makes me feel More powerful than you have ever been

I am everything and nothing here, I'm a lie
I am main character of poems and I inspire
I am nobody in this story and in real life
I am elizabethan woman who's not meant to fight

You can try to tame me
You can try to break me
I'm addicted to my passion
I wanna live with no submission

You can try to tame me
You can try to break me
I'm addicted to my passion
I wanna live with no submission

I am everything and nothing here, I'm a lie
I am main character of poems and I inspire
I am nobody in this story and in real life
I am elizabethan woman who's not meant to fight

I am everything and nothing here, I'm a lie
I am main character of poems and I inspire
I am nobody in this story and in real life
I am elizabethan woman who's not meant to fight

Until I see the light