

Cato Major: Carthago Delenda Est!

Ex Deo

"I call Cato to the senate floor."

"There is only one way, Carthago Delenda Est!"

Threat feeds the lies to kill the bloodline
Ideals of Rome, the idea of prosperity...
Freedom guides me through the heart

I am a soldier of Rome
I am descendant of Mars
I am the son of Jove
The son of Jove

Hannibal, great general of the Carthaginian hordes
Barbarian, this is your final stand

How dare you invade our lands, and break the treaty
A thousand miles away, a forgotten reign...

We shall defend the honor of Rome with every breath we take
To the end of times, our glory will feed the brave

Rise General Scipio and lead us to victory!

"Mars is by our side. Raise your Gladius. As we are the Light, they are the Darkness. For this republic, for honor, We Are Romans!"

Advance, stand with me
Children of the gods, soldiers of the chosen ones
Fight with me and die with me
The eagle of Rome that shall stand for eternity..

As world collide, burning lies
Traitors shall be crucified
Enemies... pushed back forever
