

Divide et Impera

Ex Deo

Of your Emperor's beloved trust
Centuries of courage, led to world conquest

Feel the winds of domination
A spectacle like you never seen before
You could only whisper, this scream
You could only imagine, this dream

I shall not yield (Trust)
I am a soldier of Rome (Loyalty)
You must bleed for what you believe in (Allegiance)
You must die if honor calls (In glory)

Surrender time, Surrender life
I walk the land free of all the misery you seek
My darkness will hold no prisoner
My blood is Roman and so shall I die

Feed from the wounds of time
Let the gladius strike you down
Let the fire march inside
Descend upon thee
Mars, oh god of war

Of your Emperor's beloved trust
Centuries of courage, led to world conquest

Feel the winds of domination
A spectacle like you never seen before
You could only whisper, this scream
You could only imagine, this dream

I shall not yield (Trust)
I am a soldier of Rome (Loyalty)
You must bleed for what you believe in (Allegiance)
You must die if honor calls (In glory)

Surrender time, Surrender life
I walk the land free of all the misery you seek
My darkness will hold no prisoner
My blood is Roman and so shall I die

Feed from the wounds of time
Let the gladius strike you down
Let the fire march inside
Descend upon thee
Mars, oh god of war
