

Cry of the Banshee

Exciter

Cry of the Banshee sends images of doom
To all a warning that death will follow soon Fight with the rebel kill the omen of death Fallen to the ashes you're breathin' your last breath

When twilight burns across the sky you better run and hide.
The beast will roar from deep inside

Cry of the Banshee howling in the night Pay heed to the master who beckons your life Walk over the fire encounter your last fate Deadly fairy woman waits at hell's gate

Cry of the Banshee
Screams never tell of her dreams straight from hell

Cast into a nightmare a horrible dream You've seen the light in the end and you know not what it seems You know where danger lurks and stay the hell away You'll never forget the night
she took your life away

From the land of nowhere comes a cry, a lady of fire
When you hear her voice she's Satan's crier
