you've given your life to
decadent goals
with a blessed look in your eyes
repent at your mass for the night before
when sex was the sinister
prize
beg
get on your knees and
pray
all is well, all's okay cast the first stone with pride lusting the whores at
night
drowning in pleasure,
inhaling your love
bringing on hatred and
lies
your furnace awaits you,
indulgence found home
born again blasphemer
dies
cry
your soul has been damned from the sky
communion no longer
suffices
flames rising for your demise
confession was only a lie
