Without You

Its sweet sweet enough Don't forget you And it's cold cold cold enough That I need you I ask now how can I breathe Its dark dark dark enough Not to see the light And it's just not easy enough to know why it And Im here, and Im here, just wait for me While Im living my heart is screaming For what I can't forget at all Yeah, Im breathing but Im bleeding And Ive got no place to go Its sweet sweet But you're gone from here Im still looking for you In everything you left behind for me And it seems like now You are calling me And Im saying you never left me And Im here, yes Im here, just wait for me While Im still living my heart is screaming For what I can't forget at all Yeah, Im breathing but Im bleeding And Ive got no place to go Without you Without you Without you Without you You calling me How can I breathe, how can I breathe, how can I breathe Without you And Im here, and Im here 2x While Im living my heart is screaming For what I can't forget at all Yeah, Im breathing but Im bleeding And Ive got no place to go Without you Without you Without you Without you
