

In Hatred's Flame

Exmortus

Born and sworn to rise above
To forever reign supreme
But the darkened heart that you possess
Will be consumed and only make you scream

[Chorus]Forever you will burn in hatred's flames
They shall torch your conscience
And forever know your name
I see you burn in hatred's flame
This chosen one shall lay an empty frame

To be renowned is the only thing you crave
You betrayed your fellow man
The brethren that got you to where you stand
And now it burns until that final day

You lose the war and fall upon your knees

[Chorus]Forever you will burn in hatred's flame
They shall torch your conscience
And forever now your name

And there you lie to burn forgotten and alone
To realize you shall never rise
Off selfishness and in your damned throne
For your betrayal you are plagued
Burn
