

Time Stops

Explosions in the Sky

A distant bell that won't stop ringing the long night won't defeat my soul every day I hear sweet hearts singing hold on 'til I reach that goal

Are the precepts by which I stand set in stone, solid rock, or just sand?

There is more to learn than I aim for so much under the sun I should play for before I'm taken in
before I'm taken in

Time stops when you find that feeling you're right back where it once begun watching the distances disappearing ice blocks in the mid-day sun need a new line
a different plan got the whole of the day in my hands

There is more to learn than I aim for
there is more to learn (is there more to learn?)
than I've aimed for (is there more to learn?)
so much under the sun
(is there more to learn?)
I should claim for
before I'm taken in
before I'm taken in
before I'm taken in
before you take me

Before I'm taken in
before you take me
before you take me in
before you take me
