There is No God

So you're a self proclaimed messiah Or maybe a blasphemes liar A clever hypnotic hoax A hallowed heretic coax Who tells these stories so old No, never the same twice told Speaking in distorted thruths I see that thomas wants some proof Did you come to heal the sick With one more magician's trick Ye generation seeks a sign While blind keeps leading the blind

So you say there is no god Just a clever man's charade A once upon a fairy tales fraud Has god made man or man made god

There is no god

Confused thy talk in parables Accused thou walk in parallels A simple game of simon says This month's flavor sciences Today's fact, tomorrow's fiction Leave the rest to superstition If knowledge comes from learning books Wisdom comes from discerning looks A fool that says there is no god Don't feel for that sorry sod Who needs proof then he'll believe I wonder if he's been deceived

There is no god
