

World War III

Exxplorer

I often gaze upon the stars
Wonderin' what's beyond the bars
There's someplace that we'll never see
It's beyond our highest peak

It began with space, our human race
We've turned our world into a waste
People dying and children crying
It's a fate that's soon to be

This is the story of World War III
A harder war there will never be
People dying and children crying
It's a fate that's soon to be, oh!!

This is the story of World War III
A harder war there will never be
People dying and children crying
It's a fate that's soon to be

Now I've seen beyond the stars
I've seen beyond the bars
There's someplace that we'll never see
It's beyond our highest peak
