Eyefear

This is the time, this is the place Momories of childhood written upon your face A distant voice is calling and whispers on the wind An icy hand wraps around your soul

Open your mind
Turn your anger away
Find your light in the dark
And just be you forever more

Frozen in time, shadows from your past Visions fading from view Regret has taken its toll Leaves a wound in your soul Shattering perfect images Revealing what's true

Open your mind
Turn your anger away
And just be you forever more.
