Redemption

Endless danger Into the oblivion of hell Serpents sorcerers Ascending from below

Angels flying Demons are close behind In between two worlds My soul was dying

Redemption will be yours When you free your souls And never to return To the darkness You choose the dark I choose the light Neither side can run or hide

Ancient lore Flaming sky The battle rages Across the land Only time will tell Who will win this war Judgement day is close at hand Their souls were dying

Redemption will be yours When you free your souls And never to return To the darkness You choose the dark I choose the light Neither side can run or hide. Eyefear
