The Hollow

Eyes Set to Kill

I crave the day this curse releases me of all my rage I seek a remedy The night is young, but I've become a prisoner in this story I want to live Or is love just an empty dream? Running towards a light, chasing so quickly, changing with the night Behind the city wall, the hollow holds him down I'm on the hunt No one is safe to walk these streets Out for blood, let them come Make a monster out of me I can't escape the monster that they see I will remain until the day I meet the girl with eyes who sees behind what they try fooling her to see But is she real? Or is love just an empty dream? Running towards a light, chasing so quickly, changing with the night Behind the city wall, the hollow holds him down I'm on the hunt No one is safe to walk these streets Out for blood, let them come Make a monster out of me She'll burn the hollow She'll spread the secrecy She'll tell the story of the villain that they see (4x)Or is love just an empty dream? Running towards a light, chasing so quickly, changing with the night Behind the city wall, the hollow holds him down
