Dead and buried, there's no guarantee In potters bluff there's no real R.I.P. Introducing William Dobbs, mortician Serving the dead in the time of need

In this town there are dead men walking There's always a body ready at hand Black magic or a medical breakthrough? Re-animated corpses under his command

Sadistic mentor
Morbid inventor
The re-animator of life
An artist with the knife
Dead coroner

Murder as art, corpse painter supreme People here never end up in an urn Death's just the beginning of his evil scheme Can't kill his children, they always return

Need them disfigured to work his skills People check in and corpses check out He's the mastermind behind the kills A real life puppet master, no doubt

Sadistic mentor
Morbid inventor
The re-animator of life
An artist with the knife
Dead coroner

Dead coroner