

The Silhouette In The Dark Reminds Me of You

F.O.B.

My senses fail me
Who wants it this way
My vitals fading
Who wants it this way

I'm dreaming of the days back when
I used to feel safe and reckless,
Back in the place I used to call my home

I'm contemplating
If things went my way
Everyone's leaving
God wants it this way.

I'm chanting
Your name
As my heart is ailing
And hoping that this is just a nightmare
And I'll see you again

I'm dreaming of the days back when
I used to feel safe and reckless,
Back in the place I used to call my home

Where have you disappeared?
I can barely cope any longer
Why can't you be here by me anymore.

You are no one.
