

Everyone Hates A Know-It-All

Face to Face

In a flash I'll change the universe or at least the world I knew I'm so sick and tired of watching those who say and never do you're right

and this waiting seems to last for hours as I wait impatiently and it's hard to find the strength inside to be who I should be
you're right

why should I believe the words you're telling me are true? it doesn't seem like anybody feels the way I do

I'm not too proud to say when I was wrong everyone hates a know-it-all so I thought I'd change the universe and the world I thought I knew but it seems that change is relative to what we believe is true

you're right
