

I Want

Face to Face

Everybody wants the truth but everybody lies everybody wants some proof but everybody's blind so open up your eyes

I really don't know much of anything at all but I'll admit we're all the same you ask forgiveness and you make the same mistakes and I'll admit we're all the same

I want to know
do these words mean anything?
how can this life mean more than what it seems?

everybody wants equality but we're all prejudice we're all hypocrites everybody wants the world but we have nothing

I really don't know much of anything at all

do these words mean anything?
