

Running from something and making up lies
But desperate to not fade away
Everyone else wants to say what they need to say
We needed to get out from the decay
We're jinxproof

Down like an anchor
And sinking too fast
It's such a boring cliché
Everyone's taking down someone else with the weight
We needed to get out from the decay
We're jinxproof
We're jinxproof

Forget all this talk of bad luck
And those who say we're born to lose
You and I don't need no good luck charm
I know you never mean me any harm
But even if I kept a four leaf clover
You know I'm telling you the truth

We're jinxproof
