

Devoured By Decay

Facebreaker

storm of flesh everywhere you look you will see death of man, by the plague of the corpses of the dead putrified, fearless shadows from the ashes where they died undead and still to life

devoured piece by piece
through carnage bloody feast there's just one urge to please hunger

devoured by decay
their thirst for carnage, there's no use to pray
devoured by decay
dismembered and butchered, slaughtered and slayed torn apart by death, decay, lifeless limbs that's risen from their graves and morgues

hear the cries of the stillborn arise, bright green skin and dead-white hollow eyes turned into dead, before they even died blood insane, impulses in their rotten brain indulges them to hunt down humans screaming in pain and dread as they are ripping off your head to feed it's your blood they need

hunger

devoured by decay
their thirst for carnage, there's no use to pray
devoured by decay
