Breathe out
And breathe in Accept what is
In front of me now
Doesn't matter
How I may feel cause deep inside it shows
Looking back on what I've done till now
Tell myself that it's right
Been ignoring this voice in myself
For too long

With this pain inside
I can carry on
Till the day when I can look back at
What's been saving me
And slowly eating me alive

Through out all these years
While I've held my peace
You have taken everything from me
Let the serenade of solitude play

I want to Feel nothing
So make me numb
From what's facing us now
The darkness
Amplifies every gap between the two of us

Take a look around Cause there's nothing here This is how I feel Been ignoring this voice in myself For too long

With this pain inside
I can carry on
Till the day when I can look back at
What's been saving me
And slowly eating me alive

Through out all these years While I've held my peace You have taken everything from me Let the serenade of solitude play

With this pain inside
I can carry on
Till the day when I can look back at
What's been saving me
And slowly eating me alive

And this pain inside

Can make me realize

How I must move on

From this point now

Jistened while the transfer of solitude play
